

PRIVACY, DATA-GATHERING TECHNOLOGIES, HUMAN RIGHTS

WORKSHOP

Centre de l'Espérance, Geneva
September 13, 2010

AGENDA

Objectives

- (i) To examine the relationship, at the conceptual and legal levels, nationally and internationally, between privacy, data-gathering technologies and human rights with a view to bringing contemporary research to bear on policy.
- (ii) To review the ICHRP draft discussion paper. While the paper's six chapters provide a structure for the workshop, it is not the primary purpose of the meeting to subject the paper to close textual analysis. The paper intends merely to offer a framework and entrypoints for discussion.
- (iii) To consider future directions the project might take in a second phase, in order to identify areas for further research and to determine appropriate policy approaches and targets.

Format: Each session will open with remarks of 10–15 minutes by participants, building on the ideas set out in the paper and/or introducing themes relevant to the session topic. Each session will then open up for general discussion.
