

Future of Democracy

A lecture hosted by: CIS and Tactical Tech Collective

Smári McCarthy

Date : 3rd March, Monday
Time : 6:30 pm
Venue : CIS

Smari McCarthy is an information activist, free software developer and author. He has worked globally on issues of democratic participation, information security, access to information, civil liberties, and social and economic justice. He is a founder and a board member of the International Modern Media Institute (IMMI), founder of the Shadow Parliament Project, co-founder of the Icelandic Digital Freedoms Society, the Constitutional Analysis Support Project (CAST) and the Icelandic Pirate Party. He has worked on developing and spreading digital fabrication technology through Fab Labs and Hacker Spaces. As of August 2013, he lives in London where he works with Thoughtworks on decentralization of the Internet and counter surveillance measures for the public.

Contact : +91 80 4092 6283, denisse@cis-india.org
Centre For Internet and Society (CIS) No. 194, Second 'C' Cross, Domlur, 2nd Stage,
Bangalore - 560071, Karnataka, India

TACTICAL
TECHNOLOGY COLLECTIVE

THE internet
CENTRE
FOR & society